ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAVIS THEATRE.

Special for Today Only, Ben Bolt, in Three Reels, and Five New Vaudewille Acts.

By exclusive arrangement with the William Fox Feature company, the Davis will present for today only Ben Boit, a beautiful photoplay master-plece, in three parts. Ben Bolt is a dramatization of the poem by Thomas Dunn English, popularized by its in-troduction in Maurier's Trilby. The story is told by the Solax Players and the principal scenes are enacted at story is told by the Solax Players and the principal scenes are enacted at Newport, R. L. and New London, Gonn., at the old town mill; many sensational scenes were enacted around that old landmark. Two of the greatest scenes are the realistic ship-wreck and thrilling rescues by the Newport life saving crew and the binding of Ben Boit to the mill wheel at the old town mill. These are only two of the many features of this production, which will be shown here today only. The cast includes James O'Neil, Joseph Levering and Miss Claire Whitney and a well chosen supporting cast. To lova well chosen supporting cast. To lovers of photoplay features this will be a rare treat and no one should miss seeing this great production. Besides seeing this great production. Besides this feature, there will be the usual programme of Mutual movies and Keystone comedies. The vaudeville today is all new and is comprised of five excellent acts. Sid and Dolly Winters head the list with a great German comedy skit, introducing comedy singing and dancing; Ade and Marion present a high singing act that will be a seen to high singing act that will be a sent a high singing act that will be a treat to all lovers of good singing; both of these artists have exceptionally fine voices and know how to handle them to advantage; Booth and Villarreal are two clever female funsters who have a great comedy act and some swell wardrobe. Johnnie Fox does a comedy turn featuring upside down dancing, and Lorelle, the celebrated blind violinist, completes the bill. This talented musi-cian plays with an exquisite round tone and his interpretation of classical and popular numbers is a real musical treat. Matinee today at 2.30; all seats 10 cents. The biggest and best bill ever seen in Norwich at popular prices.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The Bride of Mystery, Wonderful Three Reel Feature, and New Vaudeville.

The management of the Auditorium has taken good care that the pro-gramme for the last of the week shall not suffer by comparison with the ex-cellent bill for the first three days, and three more of the best acts obtainable have been secured.

The first feature on today's bill is the sensational three-reel melodrama entitled The Bride of Mystery, by the Gold Seal company, featuring Grace Cunard and Francis Ford. There are some very thrilling scenes in this film, which bears a slight resemblance to the famous play Trilby, owing to the part hypnotism plays in the plot. A feature film out of the ordinary.

The Alethia Twins present a very neat and dainty singing and dancing act which is quite a novelty owing t the startling resemblance between You have to see them together to

two. You have to see them together to tell them apart.

Followers of the boxing game will recognize an oid-timer in Eddle Gray, or, as he was formerly known, as Billy Tucker. Eddle Gray is the ex-feather-weight champion of the ring, and today is the world's champion bag puncher. This is an athletic novelty that will appeal to all, as the wonderful accuracy and precision he displays shows exceptionally developed muscles.

A laughing hit is provided by Dyson & Duffy in their screaming novelty. The Bellboy and the Coon. They also will offer their latest creation, The Two-Headed Policeman.

Two-Headed Policeman.
"In the Year 2014," a comedy dealing with life a hundred years from now will bring smiles to the face of all. The second of the world's greatest photoplays, Aniony and Cleopatra, is booked for next Monday. Reserved sats now on sale.

Silver shower this Friday night.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

World's Biggest Photoplay Booked. When George Kleine first produced the Cines Quo Vadis it was a revela-tion in photodrama, and the whole world marveied at its imposing beauty and spectacular grandeur. It marked an epoch in the new art and established a standard. Mr. Kleine promised more and newer productions that would surpass Quo Vadis, and public and press immediately said: "Impossible! Quo Vadis is a freak—an accident—it cannot be done again." But since then Mr. Kleine brought and the Ambreda. cannot be done again." But since then Mr. Kleine brought out the Ambrosio version of The Last Days of Pompeii, which again excited the admiration and wonderment of the public and made them realize that perhaps he would be able to fulfill his promises. Antony and Cleopatra, pronounced by all who have seen it the most wonderful achievement yet in photodrama, far excelling all its predecessors—an amazing unity of dramatic power and spectacular beauty, relating a story of absorbing interest more human and closer to nature's heart than any of the others. The love story of Quo Vadis was platonic; in The Last Days of Pompeli, idyllic; but in Antony and Cleopatra it is the earthly, masteriy and o'erpowering passion that finds a compassionale understandable termostical. compassionate understandable response in the minds of we ordinary mortals of today. Mr. Kieine is doing more than establishing a purely successful com-mercial business. With Cleopatra and such pictures he is contributing vol-umes to art and giving to the world an inheritance of lasting values that will outlive his span of life by ages. Even today its benefits are felt, for, aside from furnishing honest wholesome en-tertainment of thoroughly amusing character, his productions are spreading a knowledge of many subjects and exciting in the bosoms of hosts of readers and students a thirst for still more knowledge of them. Mr. Kleine's production of the Cines photodrama Antony and Cleopatra will be seen here twice dally at the Auditorium for three days, next Monday, Tuesday and Wed-

A Thief of Hearts, Two Reels, Enacted Amid Spain's Finest Scenery.

For today at the Colonial the mam-moth Patheplay entitled A Thief of Hearts, presented in two reels, is the reasure. This is an intensely dramatic story of the flery love of the Spaniard, legatifully enacted amid some of spain's finest scenery. The drama is, as usual with all of the preeminent Patheplays, above criticism, the phoegraphy being the admiration and wonder of all, while a very thrilling wender of all, while a very thrilling feature is a genuine bull fight. SUPERFLUOUS HAIR GROWTHS NO LONGER NECESSARY

The keen mental suffering of women troubled with unsightly hair growths is totally unnecessary. Such growths can be removed instantly and harmlessiv, without the slightest fear that the hair will grow more heavily than before. Saturate the hair with a few drops of El Rado, the matchless liquid hair remover; in a few moments the hair will vanish, leaving the skin soft, smooth and perfectly clear.

While medical science knows of no chemical agent which will eradicate hair permanently without serious injury. It is an established scientific fact that El Rado will remove hair for a very long time; its action is absolutely harmless, simple and thorough. When the hair finally does reappear it is finer instead of coarser, and can instantly be removed again for a still longer period than at first.

El Rado is becoming as standard a tollet article as face cream or thilet powder; thousands of society women use it. As a remedy and ald to good looks, El Rado has no equal, for there is not a beauty preparation in the world that can improve one's appearance more than the successful removal of an unsightly hair growth. Try a few drops on your arm, prove for yourself El Rado does everything claimed, your money back if you are not entirely satisfied. In 50c and 31 size bottles, at all leading drug and department stores, or direct from the Pilgrim sig, Co., New York, Vahanble information sent on request.

WEALTH OF HAIR

Parisian Sage Makes Thin Lifeless Hair Soft and Abundant.

Beautiful hair, fluffy, lustrous, abundant and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms—it's her main delight—yet so many of the fair sex who would be most attractive but for their streaked, thin and lifeless hair, go on thinking there is no remedy. Quickly put eside such thoughts. Beautiful hair is largely a matter of a little care and attention. matter of a little care and attention. Parisian Sage rubbed into the scalp and applied to the hair with a sponge or cloth will work wonders. Do it daily for a week, then occasionally, and you will be surprised and delighted with the result—not only will be hair become abundant soft fluffy. the hair become abundant soft, fluffy, radiant with life, but really doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage supplies hair and scalp needs. It surely removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of all dirt and excessive oil. It is not sticky or greasy, is delicately perfumed, and contains nothing to in-jure the hair or scalp. All drug and toilet counters sell it in fifty cent bottles, Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Delighted users pronounce Parisian Sage the best, most pleasant and in-vigorating hair tonic made. Try at least one bottle. Lee & Osgood Co. will refund the money if you are not have ridden the wind, have ridden the sea, have ridden the moon and stars, have set my feet in the stirrup seat of a comet coursing Mars, And everywhere, Thro' the ear and air My thought speeds, lightning-shod, It comes to a place where checking

And the Sightless bides its face.

It cries, "Beyond Hes God!"

It calls me out of the darkness.
It calls me out of sleep.
"Ride, ride! for you must, to the end of Dust!"
It bids—and on I sweep
To the wide outposts of Being.
Where there is gulf alone—
And thro' a vast that was never passed
I listen for Life's tone.

I have ridden the wind.
I have ridden the night.
I have ridden the ghosts that for From the vaults of death like a chilling breath Over eternity,

And everywhere
Is the world laid bare—
Ether and star and clod—
Until I wind to its brink and find
But the cry. "Beyond lies God!"

And value I reply,
"Fools only ride where the ways divide
What is from the Whenes and Why"
I'm lifted into the saddle
Of thoughts too strong to tame
And down the deeps and over the steeps
I find—ever the same

I find-ever the same. I have ridden the wind,
I have ridden the stars,
I have ridden the force that flies
With far intent thro' the firmament
And each to each allies.
And everywhere
That a thought may dare
To gallop, mine has trod—
Only to stand at last on the strand
Where just beyond lies God,

THE KALEIDOSCOPE There are now at least 3,200,000 bicyles in actual use in France, or four mes the number in use 14 years ago. is certain that most of the increase has been in the field of business rather han of sport.

Flint pebbles gathered on the coast of France and of which about $40,000 worth are annually exported from lavre to the United States, according a Consul John Ball Osborne, are valed at present at $7.75 per met to ton. The United Steamship company has announced that it will flicrease its sall-ings from New Orleans and Galveston to Kingston, Jamaica and ports on the southern coast of Cuba from one to two per month from each port, the in-creased service to begin at once. Consul General Alban G. Snyder notes the organization of a company in England which has purchased the old Suanish mine Barrera, near Bocas del Toro, Panama, and is already install-ing machinery. The organizer plans the opening of other mines in Panama.

By using the canals for the trans-portation of peat hundreds of boatmen and their families find a means of livelthood in Holland. Aside from a cer-tain amount of freight which is ship-ped by rult, there are yearly between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 cubic meters (cubic meter-35,314 cubic feet) of boat space necessary.

Consul General Alban G. Soyder writes that an experimental cation-growing farm is being conducted at Balboa, Pahama canal zone, by a practical cotton grower from North Carolina. It is stated that a 15 square yard plot yielded about 15 populas of boils, or at the rate of 4 800 pounds of seed cotton per acre, the line being two to three inches long.

Australian wheat production in 1911-12 was 74,000,000 bushels, and in 1912-13, 95,000,000, while the current crop of 1912-14 is estimated at 10,000,000 bushels for the four principal producing states, which with an allowance of 1.000,006 each for Tasmania and Queensland would bring this season's wheat production up to 112,000,006 bushels for all Australia.

From Dec. 1, 1913, when the new oil from the 1913-14 crop was placed on the market, to Jan. 24, 1914, 403,000 calleds of olive oil have been exported from Seville, in comparison with 29,500 gallons during the corresponding peri-od of 1912-13. Many oil merchants from other countries are here pur-chasing or making contracts for future deliveries, hence prices are abnormally high.
